

Rebecca Zitomer is first & foremost "Mom" to a 8 year old who Inspires her in all she does.

Rebecca is a graduate of Syracuse University and a battered veteran of the corporate world who left it all behind 5 years ago to pursue her dream. A self taught artist and student of the Rhode Island School of Design, Rebecca combines her love of Children, Retail & Art into a one of a kind studio located in downtown Wrentham. Inspiring self confidence, creativity, & learning are the hallmarks of her program - her kids inspire her every day to go above

& beyond the ordinary!

Program Overview:

Classes are held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays & Thursdays each week in the upstairs Studio located at 40 South Street. Each session begins at 3:30 sharp & will run 90 minutes.

Every week we will take time to profile a famous artist or piece of art and learn about it through pictures, books & the internet. Next the class will spend 30-45 minutes creating an art project that will educate students in the various media available to craft their artwork.

In the final 30-45 minutes we will learn to paint on canvas using acrylics. Students will be taught basic color theory, blending methods and a variety of painting techniques.

In addition to the class we have an art blog where Miss Rebecca writes frequently to the kids, posts various works that they produce and gives them overall comments on class which boosts self esteem and teaches them the wonders of the internet.

Finally, the program will wrap up with the Young Artist's Art Exhibition. Each artist will be invited to pick their favorite piece of artwork to showcase during an evening viewing at the It's All About Me studio!

Parents & family members will have the opportunity to meet the artists during a relaxed atmosphere. Students will have the chance to discuss their inspiration & the creative process behind their masterpiece... A fun family outing for all!
